ELECTRICAL ISSUE

Dial 911 if there is an unusual smell that can't be easily identified in your home or work space.

No Visible Warning

If you have the infamous "Fish Smell" you should start investigating by smelling the breakers in the office breaker box and then work your way to smelling every single electrical outlet and switch in your home or office, including light fixtures. There's definitely something cooking somewhere and you'll find it. If not, then that's not good because you probably have an electrical wire cooking somewhere in the wall and that can cause a fire.
